

My Life in The Fairy Garden Tree

Hayley White

At home I have my favourite tree. I like to call it our fairy garden tree. It's fifty years old and we like to climb it after school. But one day COVID-19 spread all around the world and every school had to do remote learning.

Fortunately, me and my sisters could do more playing together in the fairy garden tree. I loved it but I missed all my friends. I was happy to see them again in the end.

At home my sisters also could not go to play in other places but they loved it when I was home too. Unfortunately, the worst bit was that we had to do lots of jobs every day! We had fun though.

The other bad bit was that I started to have way more worries. I fixed it by distracting myself with thinking about the good things in my life and playing different things. I also fixed it by climbing the fairy garden tree.

The fairy garden tree is big and old. We hooked things onto it like a wobbly ladder, swings and ropes so it would be easier and more fun to climb. It is really very tall so it can also cover up the whole fairy garden to stop rain getting everything wet. We will keep it healthy and safe.
